

Elementary Homework Guidelines for Parents

Pottsgrove School District

Why is homework important?

Homework can be considered a bridge that connects the parents to the school. From the teacher's perspective, homework provides opportunities to monitor a student's independent progress. For parents, homework provides opportunities to model positive attitudes towards schoolwork while learning more about their child's education. Most importantly, students benefit from homework. Homework promotes responsibility and good study habits while reinforcing lessons that have been learned in class.

How often will my child have homework?

During a typical school week, your child will be assigned written homework Monday through Thursday. In most cases, written homework will not be assigned on Fridays. Homework may be reduced on certain nights based on classroom or school events. Students are encouraged to read each evening.

How much time should I spend on homework with my child?

Kindergarten	0 – 10 minutes
1 st Grade	10 – 20 minutes
2 nd Grade	15 - 25 minutes
3 rd Grade	20 - 30 minutes
4 th Grade	30 - 40 minutes
5 th Grade	40 - 50 minutes

The figure to the left suggests approximate time guidelines for homework completion each night.

What is my role in my child's homework?

Parents play an essential role in their child's education. By taking a few simple steps at home, parents can help their child enjoy school even more by improving his or her study and homework habits. Make the most out of your child's homework by reviewing the various roles below.

Teacher's Role	Student's Role	Parent's Role
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Provide homework that is a review and reinforcement of previously learned skills. ● Respond to student and parent questions and concerns about homework. ● Honor the time guidelines for homework. ● Use homework only to reflect a child's work habits on a trimester report card. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Write down homework assignments. ● Bring needed materials home. ● Complete assigned homework. ● Ask an adult at home if help is needed. ● Circle difficult items. ● Put a star next to the easy items. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Provide your child with a quiet work environment. ● Provide your child with the necessary supplies (pencils, erasers, etc.). ● Help your child get started on the homework. ● Be available to assist during homework completion. ● Check that all homework is completed correctly.

General Homework Tips for Parents

U.S. Dept of Education

- Make sure your child has a quiet, well-lit place to do homework. Avoid having your child do homework with the television on or in places with other distractions, such as people coming and going.
- Make sure the materials your child needs, such as paper, pencils and a dictionary, are available. Ask your child if special materials will be needed for some projects and get them in advance.
- Help your child with time management. Establish a set time each day for doing homework. Don't let your child leave homework until just before bedtime. Think about using a weekend morning or afternoon for working on big projects, especially if the project involves getting together with classmates.
- Be positive about homework. Tell your child how important school is. The attitude you express about homework will be the attitude your child acquires.
- When your child does homework, you do homework. Show your child that the skills they are learning are related to things you do as an adult. If your child is reading, you read too. If your child is doing math, balance your checkbook.
- When your child asks for help, provide guidance, not answers. Giving answers means your child will not learn the material. Too much help teaches your child that when the going gets rough, someone will do the work for him or her.
- When the teacher asks that you play a role in homework, do it. Cooperate with the teacher. It shows your child that the school and home are a team. Follow the directions given by the teacher.
- If homework is meant to be done by your child alone, stay away. Too much parent involvement can prevent homework from having some positive effects. Homework is a great way for kids to develop independent, lifelong learning skills.
- Stay informed. Talk with your child's teacher. Make sure you know the purpose of homework and what your child's class rules are.
- Help your child figure out what is hard homework and what is easy homework. Have your child do the hard work first. This will mean he will be most alert when facing the biggest challenges. Easy material will seem to go fast when fatigue begins to set in.
- Watch your child for signs of failure and frustration. Let your child take a short break if she is having trouble keeping her mind on an assignment.
- Reward progress in homework. If your child has been successful in homework completion and is working hard, celebrate that success with a special event (e.g., pizza, a walk, a trip to the park) to reinforce the positive effort.
