“DURING THE TIME MEN LIVE WITHOUT A COMMON POWER TO KEEP THEM IN AWE, THEY ARE IN A CONDITION CALLED WAR... AND THE LIFE OF MAN, SOLITARY, POOR, NASTY, BRUTISH, AND SHORT...”

- THOMAS HOBBES, LEVIATHAN
DEVELOPMENT OF ABSOLUTISM
DEVELOPMENT OF ABSOLUTISM

France had strong tradition of political freedom - consisted of over 300 local, quasi-autonomous law systems
DEVELOPMENT OF ABSOLUTISM

France had strong tradition of political freedom - consisted of over 300 local, quasi-autonomous law systems

Parlements - approx. 1 dozen powerful, regional gov’t/court systems wielded considerable power (Paris’ was greatest)
DEVELOPMENT OF ABSOLUTISM

France had strong tradition of political freedom - consisted of over 300 local, quasi-autonomous law systems

Parlements - approx. 1 dozen powerful, regional gov’t/court systems wielded considerable power (Paris’ was greatest)

The Fronde - a rebellion by nobles and parlements against Cardinal Mazarin, regent of the adolescent L. XIV
DEVELOPMENT OF ABSOLUTISM

France had strong tradition of political freedom - consisted of over 300 local, quasi-autonomous law systems

Parlements - approx. 1 dozen powerful, regional gov’t/court systems wielded considerable power (Paris’ was greatest)

The Fronde - a rebellion by nobles and parlements against Cardinal Mazarin, regent of the adolescent L. XIV

Chaos of the Fronde turned peasants & bourgeoisie against nobles to support a strong king to restore order
ABSOLUTISM
Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.
ABSOLUTISM

Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.

Purpose - to retain order and security w/in the state, and control armed forces to use against other states
ABSOLUTISM

Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.

Purpose - to retain order and security within the state, and control armed forces to use against other states

BISHOP BOSSUET - principle proponent of Absolutism
ABSOLUTISM

Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.

Purpose - to retain order and security w/in the state, and control armed forces to use against other states

BISHOP BOSSUET - principle proponent of Absolutism

- divine right: king = God’s representative on Earth

Thursday, November 21, 2013
ABSOLUTISM

Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.

Purpose - to retain order and security within the state, and control armed forces to use against other states

BISHOP BOSSUET - principle proponent of Absolutism

- divine right: king = God’s representative on Earth

- royal power must be just & absolute - like God’s will
Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.

Purpose - to retain order and security within the state, and control armed forces to use against other states

BISHOP BOSSUET - principle proponent of Absolutism

- divine right: king = God’s representative on Earth
- royal power must be just & absolute - like God’s will
- the king was above ALL other sources of authority
Absolutism - def. - the philosophy that a lawful king should monopolize law and force.

Purpose - to retain order and security within the state, and control armed forces to use against other states

BISHOP BOSSUET - principle proponent of Absolutism

- divine right: king = God’s representative on Earth
- royal power must be just & absolute - like God’s will
- the king was above ALL other sources of authority

“L’etat c’est moi” - the state is myself - Louis XIV is France
Louis XIV

AKA - The “Sun King”
Louis XIV: Absolutism & Its Limits

The Fronde - 1648 - 1653
Louis XIV: Absolutism & Its Limits

The Fronde - 1648 - 1653

The Fronde - rebellion against French Crown - named for child’s slingshot
Louis XIV: Absolutism & Its Limits

The Fronde - 1648 - 1653

The Fronde - rebellion against French Crown - named for child’s slingshot

Cardinal Mazarin - served as regent to young Louis XIV along with Anne of Austria, his mother
Louis XIV: Absolutism & Its Limits

The Fronde - 1648 - 1653

The Fronde - rebellion against French Crown - named for child’s slingshot

Cardinal Mazarin - served as regent to young Louis XIV along with Anne of Austria, his mother

- coalition of domestic opponents rebelled over financial pressures of fighting the Thirty Years’ War
Louis XIV: Absolutism & Its Limits

The Fronde - 1648 - 1653

The Fronde - rebellion against French Crown - named for child’s slingshot

Cardinal Mazarin - served as regent to young Louis XIV along with Anne of Austria, his mother

- coalition of domestic opponents rebelled over financial pressures of fighting the Thirty Years’ War

- Nobles wanted to regain power & local influence, middle & lower classes wanted tax relief
The Fronde - 1648 - 1653

The Fronde - rebellion against French Crown - named for child’s slingshot

Cardinal Mazarin - served as regent to young Louis XIV along with Anne of Austria, his mother

- coalition of domestic opponents rebelled over financial pressures of fighting the Thirty Years’ War

- Nobles wanted to regain power & local influence, middle & lower classes wanted tax relief

- rebels failed due to lack of organization & in-fighting
The Fronde - rebellion against French Crown - named for child’s slingshot

Cardinal Mazarin - served as regent to young Louis XIV along with Anne of Austria, his mother

- coalition of domestic opponents rebelled over financial pressures of fighting the Thirty Years’ War

- Nobles wanted to regain power & local influence, middle & lower classes wanted tax relief

- rebels failed due to lack of organization & in-fighting

- Fronde’s effect - LXIV’s life-long quest to monopolize all power
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism

- Nobles - had local autonomy, maintained own fighting forces
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism

- Nobles - had local autonomy, maintained own fighting forces
- Louis sought to reduce their ability to cause trouble by making himself the center of all political & economic activity
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism

- Nobles - had local autonomy, maintained own fighting forces
- Louis sought to reduce their ability to cause trouble by making himself the center of all political & economic activity
- sold offices, granted gifts & pensions to all nobles who cooperated - he made his court the center of all activity & called upon nobles to attend frequent, lavish events that revolved around him
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism

- Nobles - had local autonomy, maintained own fighting forces
- Louis sought to reduce their ability to cause trouble by making himself the center of all political & economic activity
- sold offices, granted gifts & pensions to all nobles who cooperated - he made his court the center of all activity & called upon nobles to attend frequent, lavish events that revolved around him

Versailles - his massive new palace that epitomized his control - it awed his nobles & opponents into compliance w/ his agenda
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism

- Nobles - had local autonomy, maintained own fighting forces
- Louis sought to reduce their ability to cause trouble by making himself the center of all political & economic activity
- sold offices, granted gifts & pensions to all nobles who cooperated - he made his court the center of all activity & called upon nobles to attend frequent, lavish events that revolved around him

Versailles - his massive new palace that epitomized his control - it awed his nobles & opponents into compliance w/ his agenda

Politics and the Arts
Court Culture as an Element of Absolutism

- Nobles - had local autonomy, maintained own fighting forces
- Louis sought to reduce their ability to cause trouble by making himself the center of all political & economic activity
- sold offices, granted gifts & pensions to all nobles who cooperated - he made his court the center of all activity & called upon nobles to attend frequent, lavish events that revolved around him

Versailles - his massive new palace that epitomized his control - it awed his nobles & opponents into compliance w/ his agenda

Politics and the Arts

LXIV patronized the arts & insisted they be dedicated to his own glorification - he often acted in operas & played lead roles
Enforcing Religious Orthodoxy

- LXIV ruled by divine right & insisted on religious conformity
Enforcing Religious Orthodoxy

- LXIV ruled by divine right & insisted on religious conformity

- Jansenists - Catholics who followed Dutch theologian Cornelius Jansen - engaged in Protestant-like practices
Enforcing Religious Orthodoxy

- LXIV ruled by divine right & insisted on religious conformity

- Jansenists - Catholics who followed Dutch theologian Cornelius Jansen - engaged in Protestant-like practices

  - LXIV enforced papal bulls against them
Enforcing Religious Orthodoxy

- LXIV ruled by divine right & insisted on religious conformity

- Jansenists - Catholics who followed Dutch theologian Cornelius Jansen - engaged in Protestant-like practices
  - LXIV enforced papal bulls against them

Revocation of the Edict of Nantes - 1685
Enforcing Religious Orthodoxy

- LXIV ruled by divine right & insisted on religious conformity

- Jansenists - Catholics who followed Dutch theologian Cornelius Jansen - engaged in Protestant-like practices
  - LXIV enforced papal bulls against them

Revocation of the Edict of Nantes - 1685

- LXIV eliminated all privileges granted to Huguenots - thousands fled to England, Brandenburg, N. America, & Dutch Republic
Enforcing Religious Orthodoxy

- LXIV ruled by divine right & insisted on religious conformity

- Jansenists - Catholics who followed Dutch theologian Cornelius Jansen - engaged in Protestant-like practices
  - LXIV enforced papal bulls against them

Revocation of the Edict of Nantes - 1685

- LXIV eliminated all privileges granted to Huguenots - thousands fled to England, Brandenburg, N. America, & Dutch Republic

- Many Euro powers were shocked at the religious intolerance & used it as a motive in wars against France
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister

- focused on streamlining tax collection
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister

- focused on streamlining tax collection

- sought to tax the wealthy, who paid almost zero taxes
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister

- focused on streamlining tax collection
- sought to tax the wealthy, who paid almost zero taxes
- reduced internal tariffs
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister

- focused on streamlining tax collection
- sought to tax the wealthy, who paid almost zero taxes
- reduced internal tariffs
- promoted mercantilism - gov’t controlled business
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister

- focused on streamlining tax collection
- sought to tax the wealthy, who paid almost zero taxes
- reduced internal tariffs
- promoted mercantilism - gov’t controlled business
- established commercial controls
Extending State Authority at Home & Abroad

LXIV expanded the bureaucracy to increase his control

intendant - officials handpicked by LXIV - replaced tradition of nobility owning & inheriting royal offices

- represented his rule in each region & worked against local interests to centralize authority under LXIV

Colbert - LXIV’s finance minister

- focused on streamlining tax collection
- sought to tax the wealthy, who paid almost zero taxes
- reduced internal tariffs
- promoted mercantilism - gov’t controlled business
- established commercial controls
- encouraged creation of colonial empire
The Army & War

- LXIV took sole control of all fighting forces in France
The Army & War

- LXIV took sole control of all fighting forces in France

- forces were housed in barracks & supplied by the central gov’t - not by nobles
The Army & War

- LXIV took sole control of all fighting forces in France

  - forces were housed in barracks & supplied by the central gov’t - not by nobles

  - LXIV greatly expanded the size of the French army
The Army & War

- LXIV took sole control of all fighting forces in France
  - forces were housed in barracks & supplied by the central gov’t - not by nobles
  - LXIV greatly expanded the size of the French army
- Spanish Netherlands - targeted by LXIV - attracted other Euro powers looking to prevent French “universal monarchy”
The Army & War

- LXIV took sole control of all fighting forces in France
  - forces were housed in barracks & supplied by the central gov’t - not by nobles
  - LXIV greatly expanded the size of the French army
- Spanish Netherlands - targeted by LXIV - attracted other Euro powers looking to prevent French “universal monarchy”
- before 1700, LXIV gained lands from Aus.& Spanish Habsburgs
The Army & War

- LXIV took sole control of all fighting forces in France
  - forces were housed in barracks & supplied by the central gov’t - not by nobles
  - LXIV greatly expanded the size of the French army

- Spanish Netherlands - targeted by LXIV - attracted other Euro powers looking to prevent French “universal monarchy”

- before 1700, LXIV gained lands from Aus.& Spanish Habsburgs

- 1686 - League of Augsburg - alliance of Habsburgs, Dutch, Swedes, Spaniards, & other Germans, & eventually English who fought France. The war changed little between the combatants - neither side benefitted