BACKGROUND TO THE CIVIL WAR
BACKGROUND TO THE CIVIL WAR

ELIZABETH - childless, succeeded by James VI, son of Mary Stuart, king of Scotland
BACKGROUND TO THE CIVIL WAR

ELIZABETH - childless, succeeded by James VI, son of Mary Stuart, king of Scotland

- James VI became James I, first Stuart King of England
BACKGROUND TO THE CIVIL WAR

ELIZABETH - childless, succeeded by James VI, son of Mary Stuart, king of Scotland

- James VI became James I, first Stuart King of England

J.I - wanted to take power of taxation away from parliament and increase them to enrich the crown
BACKGROUND TO THE CIVIL WAR

ELIZABETH - childless, succeeded by James VI, son of Mary Stuart, king of Scotland

- James VI became James I, first Stuart King of England

J.I - wanted to take power of taxation away from parliament and increase them to enrich the crown

- succeeded by his son Charles I in 1625
The World Turned Upside Down
England Turned Upside Down

- English nobles traditionally participated in and were consulted on Royal policy
England Turned Upside Down

- English nobles traditionally participated in and were consulted on Royal policy

- England had an “unwritten constitution” - an evolution of laws and customs (“common law”) that dictated relations between crown, nobility, & people
England Turned Upside Down

- English nobles traditionally participated in and were consulted on Royal policy

- England had an “unwritten constitution” - an evolution of laws and customs (“common law”) that dictated relations between crown, nobility, & people

- The Stuart philosophy of Royal Absolutism conflicted with English tradition - they sought to reduce the power of parliament and increase the power of the king
Charles I (Stuart) vs. Parliament
Charles I (Stuart) vs. Parliament

- forced to sign the Petition of Right in 1628 - it forbade him from raising taxes w/out Parliament’s consent
Charles I (Stuart) vs. Parliament

- forced to sign the Petition of Right in 1628 - it forbade him from raising taxes w/out Parliament’s consent

-C. I. disbanded Parliament from 1629-1640: used tricks to raise taxes: Collected “ship money” annually from coastal towns - the tax was only supposed to be levied in war emergencies
Charles I (Stuart) vs. Parliament

- forced to sign the Petition of Right in 1628 - it forbade him from raising taxes w/out Parliament’s consent

- C.I. disbanded Parliament from 1629-1640: used tricks to raise taxes: Collected "ship money" annually from coastal towns - the tax was only supposed to be levied in war emergencies

- C.I. reconvened Parliament to raise taxes and an army to fight rebellious Presbyterian Scots who rose to protest the demand that they use the new Anglican prayer book
Charles I (Stuart) vs. Parliament

- forced to sign the Petition of Right in 1628 - it forbade him from raising taxes w/out Parliament’s consent

-C. I. disbanded Parliament from 1629-1640: used tricks to raise taxes: Collected “ship money” annually from coastal towns - the tax was only supposed to be levied in war emergencies

- C.I. reconvened Parliament to raise taxes and an army to fight rebellious Presbyterian Scots who rose to protest the demand that they use the new Anglican prayer book

1642 - Parliament sided w/ Scots & waged war on Charles
Civil War & Challenge to Authority

Cavaliers (Royalists) vs. The Roundheads (Puritans)

Thursday, December 12, 2013
Divided Puritans:

- Presbyterians - wanted Calvinist church w/ central authority
Divided Puritans:

- Presbyterians - wanted Calvinist church w/ central authority
  - they dominated Parliament
Divided Puritans:

- Presbyterians - wanted Calvinist church w/ central authority
  - they dominated Parliament

- Independents - wanted free, autonomous congregations
Divided Puritans:

- Presbyterians - wanted Calvinist church w/ central authority
  - they dominated Parliament

- Independents - wanted free, autonomous congregations
  - dominated the army
Divided Puritans:

- Presbyterians - wanted Calvinist church w/ central authority
  - they dominated Parliament

- Independents - wanted free, autonomous congregations
  - dominated the army

- They joined to support Oliver Cromwell, a member of Parliament and sympathizer of the Independents
Divided Puritans:

- Presbyterians - wanted Calvinist church w/ central authority
  - they dominated Parliament

- Independents - wanted free, autonomous congregations
  - dominated the army

- They joined to support Oliver Cromwell, a member of Parliament and sympathizer of the Independents

- Cromwell formed up The New Model Army and defeated Charles I, who surrendered & was taken prisoner
- Numerous groups emerged to promote their agendas -
Quakers, Baptists, Diggers, & Levellers

Diggers on St. George's Hill, 1649
- Numerous groups emerged to promote their agendas - Quakers, Baptists, Diggers, & Levellers

- Women found acceptance & influence in many of these groups, especially the Quakers

Diggers on St. George’s Hill, 1649
Numerous groups emerged to promote their agendas - Quakers, Baptists, Diggers, & Levellers

- Women found acceptance & influence in many of these groups, especially the Quakers

- Parliament & the political elite feared new sects - thought they would destabilize society
- Numerous groups emerged to promote their agendas - Quakers, Baptists, Diggers, & Levellers

- Women found acceptance & influence in many of these groups, especially the Quakers

- Parliament & the political elite feared new sects - thought they would destabilize society

- Cromwell crushed the Diggers and Levellers, groups that supported social equality, property and voting rights

Diggers on St. George's Hill, 1649
Oliver Cromwell

“Paint the mole and all.”
- OC’s army routed the Presbyterians from Parliament w/ whom the captured king was negotiating.
THE PURITAN REVOLUTION

- OC’s army routed the Presbyterians from Parliament w/ whom the captured king was negotiating.

- The Rump - the 70 remaining members of Parliament were called “The Rump”
- OC’s army routed the Presbyterians from Parliament w/ whom the captured king was negotiating.

-The Rump - the 70 remaining members of Parliament were called “The Rump”

- The Rump voted to execute Charles I on 1/30/1649
THE PURITAN REVOLUTION

- Parliament’s forces, led by Cromwell, defeated the King

- OC’s army routed the Presbyterians from Parliament w/ whom the captured king was negotiating.

-The Rump - the 70 remaining members of Parliament were called “The Rump”

- The Rump voted to execute Charles I on 1/30/1649
-OC & The Rump executed Charles in 1649
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords
- Cromwell’s rule has been called the “Interregnum”
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords

- Cromwell’s rule has been called the “Interregnum”

- OC allowed no political dissent, repressed Catholic worship, banned Anglican use of the Book of Common Prayer
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords

- Cromwell’s rule has been called the “Interregnum”

- OC allowed no political dissent, repressed Catholic worship, banned Anglican use of the Book of Common Prayer

- Ruled much like the Absolutists- sought to extend state power
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords

- Cromwell’s rule has been called the “Interregnum”

- OC allowed no political dissent, repressed Catholic worship, banned Anglican use of the Book of Common Prayer

- Ruled much like the Absolutists- sought to extend state power

- Crushed Scotland & Ireland & the Dutch
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords

- Cromwell’s rule has been called the “Interregnum”

- OC allowed no political dissent, repressed Catholic worship, banned Anglican use of the Book of Common Prayer

- Ruled much like the Absolutists- sought to extend state power

- Crushed Scotland & Ireland & the Dutch

- Abolished the Rump & called himself “Lord Protector”
Puritan Republic of Oliver Cromwell

- The Rump abolished the Monarchy & the House of Lords

- Cromwell’s rule has been called the “Interregnum”

- OC allowed no political dissent, repressed Catholic worship, banned Anglican use of the Book of Common Prayer

- Ruled much like the Absolutists- sought to extend state power

- Crushed Scotland & Ireland & the Dutch

- Abolished the Rump & called himself “Lord Protector”

- The Navigation Act - banned imports on Dutch ships- part of a wider struggle for commercial naval supremacy
TRIUMPH OF PARLIAMENT

THE RESTORATION
1660-1688

-Stuart monarchy, Parliament, Church of England restored
TRIUMPH OF PARLIAMENT

THE RESTORATION
1660-1688

-Stuart monarchy, Parliament, Church of England restored

-Dissenters (aka Puritans) targeted by reforms to promote Anglicanism
TRIUMPH OF PARLIAMENT

THE RESTORATION
1660-1688

-Stuart monarchy, Parliament, Church of England restored

-Dissenters (aka Puritans) targeted by reforms to promote Anglicanism

Charles II
TRIUMPH OF PARLIAMENT

THE RESTORATION
1660-1688

-Stuart monarchy, Parliament, Church of England restored

-Dissenters (aka Puritans) targeted by reforms to promote Anglicanism

Charles II

-Pro Catholic, religiously tolerant, ignored Dissenter laws
TRIUMPH OF PARLIAMENT

THE RESTORATION
1660-1688

-Stuart monarchy, Parliament, Church of England restored

-Dissenters (aka Puritans) targeted by reforms to promote Anglicanism

Charles II

-Pro Catholic, religiously tolerant, ignored Dissenter laws

-Francophile - asked for aid from Louis XIV in war against Dutch
Parliament’s Reaction to Charles II:
Parliament’s Reaction to Charles II:

- Test Act - required all office-holders to be active members of the Anglican Church
Parliament’s Reaction to Charles II:

- Test Act - required all office-holders to be active members of the Anglican Church

- Whigs - (aka “Exclusionists”) - opposed to Catholicism & James II’s succession
Parliament’s Reaction to Charles II:

- Test Act - required all office-holders to be active members of the Anglican Church

- Whigs - (aka “Exclusionists”) - opposed to Catholicism & James II’s succession

- Tories - King’s supporters, OK w/ James II’s succession despite his open conversion to Catholicism
Revolution of 1688 (Glorious Revolution)
Revolution of 1688 (Glorious Revolution)

- James II succeeded his bro. Charles II, had converted to Cath.
Revolution of 1688 (Glorious Revolution)

- James II succeeded his bro. Charles II, had converted to Cath.

-Whigs & Tories joined in opposition to JII when his Cath-born son jumped in front of his Prot. daughters in line of succession
Revolution of 1688 (Glorious Revolution)

- James II succeeded his bro. Charles II, had converted to Cath.

- Whigs & Tories joined in opposition to Jll when his Cath-born son jumped in front of his Prot. daughters in line of succession

- P. leaders offer throne to J.’s protestant daughter Mary, wife of William III of Orange
Revolution of 1688 (Glorious Revolution)

- James II succeeded his bro. Charles II, had converted to Cath.

- Whigs & Tories joined in opposition to JII when his Cath-born son jumped in front of his Prot. daughters in line of succession

- P. leaders offer throne to J.’s protestant daughter Mary, wife of William III of Orange

- JII fled, defeated in Ireland at Battle of Boyne (1690)
Bill of Rights of 1689:

Toleration Act of 1689:
Bill of Rights of 1689:

- W&M agreed not to levy taxes or raise a standing army w/out Parliament’s consent

Toleration Act of 1689:
Bill of Rights of 1689:
- W&M agreed not to levy taxes or raise a standing army w/out Parliament’s consent
- Agreed to call regular sessions of Parliament & abide by & not revoke duly passed laws

Toleration Act of 1689:
Bill of Rights of 1689:

- W&M agreed not to levy taxes or raise a standing army w/out Parliament’s consent
- Agreed to call regular sessions of Parliament & abide by & not revoke duly passed laws
- Served as a written legal basis for the independence of Parliament as a separate body that shared power w/ the rulers

Toleration Act of 1689:
Bill of Rights of 1689:

- W&M agreed not to levy taxes or raise a standing army w/out Parliament’s consent
- Agreed to call regular sessions of Parliament & abide by & not revoke duly passed laws
- Served as a written legal basis for the independence of Parliament as a separate body that shared power w/ the rulers

Toleration Act of 1689:

- granted all Protestants freedom of worship
Bill of Rights of 1689:
- W&M agreed not to levy taxes or raise a standing army w/out Parliament’s consent
- Agreed to call regular sessions of Parliament & abide by & not revoke duly passed laws
- Served as a written legal basis for the independence of Parliament as a separate body that shared power w/ the rulers

Toleration Act of 1689:
- granted all Protestants freedom of worship
- Only Anglicans admitted to universities
Bill of Rights of 1689:

- W&M agreed not to levy taxes or raise a standing army w/out Parliament’s consent

- Agreed to call regular sessions of Parliament & abide by & not revoke duly passed laws

- Served as a written legal basis for the independence of Parliament as a separate body that shared power w/ the rulers

Toleration Act of 1689:

- granted all Protestants freedom of worship

- Only Anglicans admitted to universities

- Catholics could only worship in private
“DURING THE TIME MEN LIVE WITHOUT A COMMON POWER TO KEEP THEM IN AWE, THEY ARE IN A CONDITION CALLED WAR... AND THE LIFE OF MAN, SOLITARY, POOR, NASTY, BRUTISH, AND SHORT...”

- THOMAS HOBBES, LEVIATHAN
HOBBES - (1588 -1679):

- a materialist, secular atheist
HOBBES - (1588 -1679):

- a materialist, secular atheist
- low opinion of human nature
HOBBES - (1588 - 1679):

- a materialist, secular atheist
- low opinion of human nature

- viewed absolutism as a “contract” between ruler and subjects - necessary for social order
HOBBES - (1588 -1679):

- a materialist, secular atheist
- low opinion of human nature
- viewed absolutism as a “contract” between ruler and subjects - necessary for social order
HOBBES - (1588 -1679):
- a materialist, secular atheist
- low opinion of human nature
- viewed absolutism as a “contract” between ruler and subjects - necessary for social order
- Justified absolutism based on science
- that man’s nature demands it rather than religion (divine right monarchy)
John Locke - (1632-1704):
John Locke - (1632-1704):

- supported Parliament in English civil wars
John Locke - (1632-1704):

- supported Parliament in English civil wars
- agreed w/ Hobbes that gov’t was a “social contract”
John Locke - (1632-1704):

- supported Parliament in English civil wars
- agreed w/ Hobbes that gov’t was a “social contract”
- believed people were rational, reasonable
John Locke - (1632-1704):

- supported Parliament in English civil wars
- agreed w/ Hobbes that gov’t was a “social contract”
- believed people were rational, reasonable
- natural rights - right to life, liberty, property
John Locke - (1632-1704):

- supported Parliament in English civil wars
- agreed w/ Hobbes that gov’t was a “social contract”
- believed people were rational, reasonable
- natural rights - right to life, liberty, property

- a ruler who did not protect natural rights could be justifiably resisted
Tabula Rasa - a “blank slate” - Locke believed that everything you know comes from sensory experience - not from anything inherent in human nature
Tabula Rasa - a “blank slate” - Locke believed that everything you know comes from sensory experience - not from anything inherent in human nature

- Locke believed that all humans are “tabula rasa” and therefore equal. We all become what experience makes us become - we are products of our experience
Tabula Rasa - a “blank slate” - Locke believed that everything you know comes from sensory experience - not from anything inherent in human nature

- Locke believed that all humans are “tabula rasa” and therefore equal. We all become what experience makes us become - we are products of our experience

What do you think?