

POTTSGROVE HR SPOTLIGHT ON...

Shannon Randle

Shannon Randle began teaching at Pottsgrove School District in 2005. As a graduate of Pottsgrove High School, Shannon knew that she always wanted to return to her alma mater as a teacher at Ringing Rocks Elementary School. Prior to landing her current position as a kindergarten teacher at Rocks, Shannon worked at a daycare and was a substitute teacher at both Pottsgrove and Pottstown School Districts. She also served as a reading teacher and a first-grade long-term substitute at Lower Pottsgrove Elementary School. Shannon attended Bloomsburg University and received her Bachelor's in Elementary/Early Childhood Education. She later earned her Master's Degree in Education from Gratz College.

Shannon likes to spend time with her husband and french bulldog Olive. She loves to cheer on the Philadelphia Eagles and watch the show The Young and the Restless. Shannon and her husband enjoy vacationing in Disney World, San Francisco, and Wildwood, NJ. Although they enjoy experiencing new places, Shannon shares that she is a homebody at heart and likes to relax at home. One of Shannon's special skills is that she is very organized. Her favorite foods include pizza and donuts.

Shannon's favorite memories from attending PGSD are high school Color Days, the History Club trip to Boston, and every memory from elementary school. She shares that it was her Ringing Rocks teachers that inspired her to want to teach here. Shannon's advice to her students is, "They can do anything they want to in their lives if they put forth the effort. Don't worry about everybody else, do what you want to do and what you think is right."
